

STATUS OF BERTLING OFFICES

Last update: 8 September 2020 at 09:00pm GMT+1

Since the start of the global corona virus spread, all our offices have remained operational. Some of our worldwide teams have already completed six months and more working from home while other teams have slowly started to return to the office in line with our corporate safety, hygiene and distancing guidelines.

The ultimate objective is to keep our staff safe and healthy. Therefore, in some countries like the USA or Peru our teams needed to go back to work from home in response to the continuously increasing coronavirus infection numbers.

Also our corporate business travel restrictions for meetings, sales visits and events remain unchanged until further notice as well as regulations on hygiene, quarantine and sickness in line with local regulations and government advice.
